Welcome

A warm welcome to the International Botanical Drug Conference & Expo!

We very much look forward to hosting you all in the beautiful city of Sarawak over the next few days. As Chairs of this IBDC&EXPO we have been extremely impressed with the quality and focus of the submitted abstracts and we are confident you will find the presentations interesting and stimulating.

The theme for this year's event is 'Applications & Technologies' – bridging the gap between practice and research as well as clinician and researcher. Applications - multi-disciplinary perspectives and Collaborations involving a wide range of contributors - are at the heart of all good research. Yet, successful health and medical research also needs to move a step further providing insights that are of direct relevance and benefit to a whole host of co-producers and stakeholders including participants, providers, health care users and/or wider communities. Both established and fast emerging complex health challenges are often global in scope and research in our topic has a role to play in both understanding and addressing such problems – but this can only be achieved, in part, through generating research outcomes that are rigorous and speak to those invested in the routine grass-roots of everyday health behavior and care.

Indeed, the diverse range of research on offer at the IBDC certainly attests to a global-scale vision that has the potential to reach out to those best positioned for direct change. We have presenters from over 30 countries introducing the latest work across many fields, disciplines and topics including a strong focus on translation and implementation, health policy and health systems, multi-disciplinary collaborations and the development of practice-based research questions and insights.

The mix and quality of this year's program reflects the growing confidence and innovation within the complementary medicine research field and we are sure the IBDC will inspire, challenge and energise you all (practitioners and researchers alike) to continue our collective pursuit of critical, rigorous and impactful investigation that can lead to better health and health care for all.

Welcome once again – enjoy Brisbane and the IBDC

Warm regards
